

International Experience

International Academy

Trinity College and Theological Seminary

Strasbourg, France.

July, 2001.

This was a two-week conference on Western philosophy, history, and theology. Faculty included Dr. John Warwick Montgomery (Trinity), Dr. John Bloom (Biola), and others.

China Seminar

May, 2005.

Co-led a WKU faculty delegation on a two-week tour of China, including visits to Beijing, Xian, Chongqing, and Wuhan. I delivered a lecture entitled “The Political Philosophy of the American Declaration of Independence” to faculty and students at Chongqing Technical and Business University.

Amsterdam, the Netherlands

November, 2005.

Presented my book Ronald Reagan’s Journey: Democrat to Republican at the International Leadership Association’s Annual Conference.

London School of Economics and Political Science

July, 2006.

Invited as an Academic Visitor to the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE) to collaborate with LSE scholars on a research project. The research was presented at the 2007 Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association and was subsequently published as “Yes, Ronald Reagan’s Rhetoric Was Unique—But, Statistically How Unique?” in Presidential Studies Quarterly Volume 42 Number 3, September 2012. Dr. Cheryl Schonhardt-Bailey and Dr. Saadi Lahlou, both of the London School of Economics and Political Science, were co-authors with me on this publication.

London School of Economics and Political Science
September, 2011-July, 2012.

Visiting Fellow at Harlaxton College. Work undertaken for the M.Sc. in political theory from the London School of Economics and Political Science. Coursework and research projects on the political thought of Locke, Hume, Hayek, Berlin, Popper, and others. The M.Sc. degree was awarded with merit on November 1, 2013.

University of Exeter
March, 2012.

Delivered a lecture “Locke, Toleration, and Political Leadership” exploring the relevance of Locke’s arguments in his Letter Concerning Toleration to political leadership today. The Centre for Leadership Studies at Exeter extended the invitation to lecture.